Foua & Kefraya

Hassan Khareeta, the alleged mastermind behind the attack

- Ambulances evacuated the injured to Bab al-Hawa hospital and other field hospitals in Idleb
- 125 people, including 67 (80) children, were killed
- 413 people were wounded.
- 42 names of missing individual documented

A mother of four:

she was in a bus with her son watching her three daughters, aged eight, 12 and 13, They couldn't have been injured because they were not close to the van distributing the bags of potato crisps. They must have been taken because all of the injured and the bodies of the killed were returned. It was a day from hell.

It wasn't enough that we lost our homes and town but we had to lose our children

- Father of four children.

- I found my son
- one daughter injured in the leg
- couldn't find my other two daughters.
- They took us to Bab al-Hawa hospital. They told me at the hospital that my second daughter died from her injury and they gave me her body
- I couldn't find my third daughter. I have no idea where my third daughter is. I looked for her in Aleppo and asked organisations but nobody knows where she is

سراقب اليوم

Where we are?

- People are distraught
 - Separation
 - Loss of relatives
 - Consequences from the siege
 - Displacement
- Justice will be long way and any help well be appreciated
